Step Out. Speak Out. Sing Out.

September 10th was our annual Step Out, Speak Out, Sing Out event night. It started with a march from the Wyoming Capitol Building to the Depot Plaza, followed by a lip-sync battle and finally, a candle lighting ceremony. It was a bit rainy, but the weather let up just in time for us to hold the final contest!

A special thanks to Emily Weinert, with the Cheyenne Police Department Explorers Program, for touching our hearts with a beautiful opening speech. Congratulations to Daniel Dorsch, of Thrivent Financial, for winning the battle- great moves Ariana Grande! What a fantastic night of entertainment and fun, while still remembering those whom we have lost.

Thanks to all of the others who participated in the contest: Brandon Swain (REMAX), Michelle Sidhu (Boys & Girls Club), Joe Shogrin (High West Energy), and Manny Fardella (Cheyenne Police Department), you all did a wonderful job and we appreciate your willingness to join in on the fun!

A huge shout-out and thank you to Thrivent Financial and Cheyenne Regional Medical Center for sponsoring the event, and to Chris Viste and Anthony Bannon, for providing DJ services and staying late to play while we cleaned up!

Volunteer Night

A huge thank you to everyone who came to our Volunteer Night on September 16th! We had such a great turn out! We were able to fold and staple hundreds of flyers to gun locks for the Gun Lock Project, make around 100 Self-Injury Prevention bags for upcoming events, and create about 50 folders for future participants in the Peer Support Group. We were done quickly and had time to eat snacks and get to know each other. What a great night!
